At the very hour the governor was telling off his little piece incentions in message; to the democratic regulature of Idano, Geo. Q. Cannon, delegate to congress and elected by blormon votes in a Mormon retrievery admitted into the union under a Mormon petesthood, was in Washington city staring a rapublican administration in the lace with his four polygamous wives banging upon his arms (not prostituted) ogling the government. There were heads of departments, attaches, senabors, members and others in high positions and mostly republicans, legally married and single, staring back at the Etsh polygamist, each with an unsaid number of concubines stowed away in the background. Those at all familiar with life bablind the scenes in Washington city know this statement to be true, and the same condition of things has oristed there over since the reins of government passed out of the hands of the democratic party. Their great wrong in this territory is not their religion, but in always voting the democratic teket. There is nothing in . all the dark pages of history more terrible than the barbarities suffered during the past nine (months by an unoffending and holpless people. thousands have been despoiled of their property; mobs have swarmed upon the Jewish quarters of the cities; fathers, husbands and brothers have been butchered and tortured for defending their mothers, daughters and sisters from the semi-barbaric soldiery of the czar. Instances are related where women, fired with religious deviltry, mixed with the infuriated mob and held the Jewesses down until the brutality of the soldiery was satisfied. A father defending his daughter was thrown from the window of his house; a husband was compelled to witness the throat-cutting of his wife and six children; a wife was pinioned and forced to In taking the comeun the discovery has been see hor husband and and daughter slowly roastmade that the possilation consists of distinctly ed. The pooling arrangement of the Pacific railroads, reported in our disnatches some days ago, is receiving a good deal of attention from the eastern press. Of course the object of it is to hold with an iron grasp the monopoly of the entire Pacific trade. The effort to cripple the Northern Pacific by depriving it of its land grant is also recognized as part of the monopoly scheme. The St, Paul Press says: "It does not need to be said that this last move upon the railway obesshoard gives now importance to the Northern Pacific. It makes two things of vital interest to the nation; that this line should be completed at the earliest possible date, and that it should be kept at any cost out of the hands of conscienceless autorracy which now didtates the terms to be imposed upon all traffic or communication between cast and west, Dangerous in all its aspects-financial, commercial and political-as is this concentration of power in the hands of two irresponsible private individuals, the only immediate remedy lies in the construction of the great northern highway and its competitive action. That the monopolists thoroughly understand; this is evident enough from the frantic assaults upon it made by their clients on the floor of congress, and their henchmen in the editorial rooms of the New York dailies under their control. The Northern Pacific enterprise passes from the plane of a mighty power in northwestern development, and rises to that of the only safeguard between the whole people and an indefinite and unlimited

It creates no new office and obviates the necessity of amending the constitution or passing any new law of succession about which it seems impossible for atstesmen to agree. It will give dignity and significance to an office of great nominal importance which now in fact is but a name. The possibilities behind the prescribed duty of an elector under the proposed law, would insure good men for the position and give to it something of the importance which it deserves, while the existence of a body of men authorized to fill vacancies, would be security against treason as well as accident.

Her mother bent and kissed her lips, And kissed Her-bridded heir, And folded down the peaceful hands Upon the bosom fair, And, weeping, saw on one a ring. A little golden, time-worn thing.

She took it from the ley hand And looked for rhyme or name. Something to say why it was there, From whose fond thought it came. She only saw, through many a tear. A date long past—day, month and year.

"Twas some schoolfellow's gift," she sighed,
"The child forgot to show."
And put it back in its own place
With tender touch and show,
And saw its iny glitter rest
Like sunshine on that quiet breast. We watch the light in our darling's eyes, We watch the light in our tarting s eyes.
The lines that the slow years bring.
Yet know as little what they mean
As the secret of the ring.
Log or screwi-God only knows flow much of both lies under the rose.

S. the Impurior is not entitled to notice of the decision of the secretary upon as appeal from the collector, and the limitation of 30 days within which the important may commence as faction under sail section by recover dates allowed to have been 150 gaily exacts I considered to the date of said decisis a notified from the time the different may have knowledge of it.

Chung Yune, a Chinese tirm of this city, bring this action to recover from defendant-the collector of customs at this port the sam of $1031 31, allowed to have been illegally exseted as the duty upon 372 be xee of sage flour, entered here for consumption.

The importer duly appealed to the secretary of the treasury from the decision of the collection of the coll tor, as to whether the goods were duffable or not, and on Reptember 27, 1881, the secretary affirmed the action of the collector, but the same was not brought to the knowledge of the plaintiff until October 9, 1881. The action was plaintiff final October 9, 1831. The action was commenced on December 27, 1881—the nine-ty-first day after the decision of the secretary. The defendant demurs to the complaint for that it appears therefrom that the action was not commenced within ninety days from the decision of the secretary, as required by statute.

Section 2931 of the R. S. (414 of the act of June 30, 1864, Stat. 13,214) provides that the decision of the eccretary of the treasury on an appeal from a decision of a collector of customs "as to the rate and amount of duties to be paid" on merchandise entored at his portshall be final and conclusive, and such mornals with shall be brought within ninety days after the decision of the secretary on such appeal for any duties which shall have been paid before the date of ence decision."

The defendant demurs to the complaint, for the fact that it was recently reported at the samulal mosting of the country—decotation. That this is no casagreration may be understood from the fact that it was recently reported at the samulal mosting of the country—decotation.
